

Age and Dating

Top 10 Takeaways

- 1 Your dating pool consists of men who want you; stop trying to convince men who don't that they should.
- 2 Don't waste one second on a guy who is not sure he wants children when you know for sure that you do.
- 3 Don't assume that every man who is older than you is "old." Not all men of the same age are the same.
- 4 Everyone thinks she looks 5-10 years younger; thus, it doesn't hold much currency when you tell people that you do, too.
- 5 You can lie about your age, but some people will question your character.
- 6 People who lie about their age aren't bad; they are merely insecure that telling the truth won't get them in the door.
- 7 2 Facts: men fall in love faster, and men are more likely to want to get married again after divorce.
- 8 No marriage ever survived for 30 years due to a mutual interest in running.
- 9 How you feel around him matters far more than who runs circles around whom.
- 10 When all is said and done, it only takes one guy to change your entire life, and that's why you keep on going.
