

Courtship

Top Ten Takeaways

- 1 The onus is on you to make yourself approachable to men wherever you go.
- 2 Either mirror the alpha-male or be proactive with the beta-male.
- 3 Accept and appreciate the strengths of the passive, easygoing man.
- 4 If you want to date a leader, you'd better be able to let him lead.
- 5 Showing a man you like him is far more effective than telling him.
- 6 Not every guy will have read the memo he should pick up the check. If he doesn't, reach for your credit card and split the bill. He'll either pay, or you'll go dutch. And if it's the latter, let it go.
- 7 Common interests might attract you to a man, but they're not indicative of what it takes to have successful long-term relationship.
- 8 When you make something a deal-breaker (money, religion, the tube of toothpaste), it IS a deal-breaker.
- 9 Instead of focusing on your differences, focus on how he makes you feel.
- 10 No guy is your project. You can nudge him into better behavior, but beyond that, you just have accept him or leave him.

Like this? You'll love  LOVE U

